

616-083

B 69

COMMUNITY COLLEGE

3 0026 00074 6437

WHEN SOMEONE YOU LOVE

Needs Nursing Home, Assisted Living, or In-Home Care

THE COMPLETE GUIDE

Includes information on:

- How to choose the best setting for a loved one
- Long-term care insurance and other financial issues
- Checklists, worksheets, and resource guides

Robert F. Bornstein, Ph.D., and
Mary A. Languirand, Ph.D.

676-083

B 69

WHEN SOMEONE YOU LOVE NEEDS NURSING HOME, ASSISTED LIVING, OR IN-HOME CARE

The Complete Guide

ROBERT F. BORNSTEIN, Ph.D.

AND

MARY A. LANGUIRAND, Ph.D.

NEWMARKET PRESS · NEW YORK

GERALD B. JAMES LIBRARY
ROCKINGHAM COMMUNITY COLLEGE
WENTWORTH, NC 27375

458045

Universitatea de Științe
Medicină și Farmacie
«Nicolae Testemițanu»

Biblioteca Științifică Medicală

SL3

DISCARDED

Contents

PREFACE XV

1. The Invisible Army 1

Nursing home myths and misperceptions

Stereotype #1: Nursing homes are warehouses for unwanted people

Stereotype #2: All nursing home residents are senile or demented

Stereotype #3: Nursing home residents have few legal rights

Stereotype #4: Families have little say in the treatment

Stereotype #5: Nursing homes only offer basic care—no frills required

Stereotype #6: Only selfish, lazy people put family members in nursing homes

A framework for caregiving

Plan ahead

Get advice

Get others involved

Keep colleagues informed

Take care of yourself

Put things in perspective

2. When Someone You Love Just Can't Make It Alone: Signs and Symptoms, Strategies and Solutions 10

Common signs of functional decline

What factors contribute to functional decline?

Physical changes

Perceptual changes

Cognitive changes

Psychological changes

Distinguishing temporary decline from long-term deterioration

Seeking a diagnosis and beginning treatment
 Learning about the illness and planning ahead
 Considering psychological factors

Getting your loved one to see the doctor

Getting your loved one to see a mental health professional

The emotional side of caregiving: Changing roles

The adult child's perspective
 The spouse's perspective
 The sibling's perspective

Caregiver stress and its effects

Emotional signs
 Physical symptoms
 Cognitive signs

Coping with stress before it overwhelms you

3. In-Home Care: Autonomy, Continuity, and a Bit of Extra Help

30

Finding and funding good in-home care

Who may provide in-home care?

Certified home health care agencies
 Independent providers

How to evaluate an agency or provider

Questions to ask the agency
 Questions to ask the independent provider
 Questions to ask former clients and their families
 Caregiver qualities you'll have to assess yourself

The trial period

When problems arise during in-home care

Important warning signs of a poor home-care worker
 Confronting a poor caregiver

Signs of abuse, neglect, or exploitation

Physical symptoms
 Psychological symptoms
 Financial signs

Reporting abuse, neglect, or exploitation

4. When In-Home Care Becomes Impossible: Screaming, Crying, Fighting...and Moving On

48

Talking about options with other family members

Beginning the discussion
 Exploring possibilities

- Building consensus
- Turning thoughts into actions
- Raising the issue with the care receiver
 - Who should participate?
 - Where should you meet?
 - When should you do it?
- Common care receiver objections
 - Excuses
 - Guilt-tripping
 - Threats
- Recognizing and accepting the person's fears
- Developing a partnership with the care receiver
- When your loved one is determined to disagree
- The concept of competency
- If you're in charge

5. Choosing the Right Placement Setting: Thinking Clearly in the Midst of Chaos

66

- Varieties of placement settings
 - Senior communities
 - Group homes
 - Assisted living facilities
 - Skilled care facilities
 - Long-term care
- Continuing care communities
- Obtaining information about a specific setting
 - Getting technical ratings
 - Talking to administrators
 - Talking to residents and their families
- Inspecting the facility
 - The physical setting
 - The milieu
 - The intangibles
- Funding: Who pays for what?
 - Medicare
 - Medicaid
 - Medigap insurance
 - Secondary insurance
 - Long-term care insurance
 - Veteran's benefits
- What if we run out of money?
- Must the nursing home get it all?

6. Leaving Home for the Nursing Home: Preparing for the Dreaded Day

91

Psychological preparations

- Discussing last-minute fears and concerns

- Avoiding last-minute surprises

What to pack (and leave behind)

- Clothing

- Toiletries

- Familiar items

- Orienting cues

Legal preparations

- Last will and testament

- Advance directives

- Power of attorney

Funeral arrangements

Financial preparations

- Budgets

- Banking, bills, and taxes

- Asset management

Preparing the house

- If the house will be unoccupied

- If someone will remain in the home

7. Anxiety, Anger, Fear, and Guilt: Adjusting to the New Situation

110

Common reactions to placing a family member in a nursing home

Adjusting to the nursing home: The patient's perspective

- The arrival

- The settling-in period

- Long-term adjustment

Building new routines in a changing relationship

Visits in the nursing home

- The rhythm of the nursing home

- Timing of visits

- Length of visits

- Who should go?

- What should you do?

The off-grounds pass

Leaving and returning: Practical considerations

- Sign-outs

- Equipment

Medications

Getting out the door (and back in at the end)

Staying connected between visits

Telephone contact

Contact by mail

E-mail

Establishing a communication routine

8. *Confrontation or Partnership—It's Up to You:
A Down-and-Dirty Guide to Nursing Home Politics*

130

Nursing home staff: The cast of characters

Administrators

Physicians

Nursing staff

Social services

Dietary services

Activities services

Pastoral/Clergy

Therapies and ancillary services

Housekeeping and maintenance

Allied and support services

Admissions, billing, and human resources

Interfacing with staff: Your arenas of influence

Admission review meetings: Where plans are formed

Care plan meetings: Where decisions are made

Resident and family councils: Where concerns are voiced

Interactions with caregivers: Where family and staff connect

Constructive interventions: How to get what you want (and be loved while you're doing it)

When complaining is the only way

Legal rights of residents

Legal rights of family members

9. Old Age Ain't for Sissies: Late-Life Medical Problems and How to Deal With Them

151

The aging body: Different parts work at different speeds

Some processes slow as we age

Some processes accelerate as we age

Some things never change

Common medical problems in nursing home residents

Dementias and other neurological syndromes

Cancers
 Joint diseases
 Skin problems
 Vascular and cardiac diseases
 Metabolic and endocrine diseases
 Diseases of the eye
 Pulmonary disease
 Renal and urinary disorders
 Digestive/elimination difficulties

Why treat it if you can't make it better?

10. A Realistic Approach to Behavior Problems: No More Peeing in the Petunias

171

Behavior problems: Causes and treatments

Common behavior problems in nursing home residents

Insulting and accusing others
 Wandering
 Stealing
 Hoarding
 Aggression
 Repetitive questioning and repetitious behavior
 Refusing to eat
 Noncompliance
 Inappropriate elimination
 Inappropriate sexual behavior

Hidden factors that set the stage for problems

Inadequate staffing
 Sensory overload
 Boredom
 Medication problems
 The wrong neighbors

Knowing when to call in the experts

Signs that a quick response is needed
 What you should do
 What staff will do

The suicidal nursing home patient

What to look for
 What to do

Maintaining a good relationship with the troubled loved one

Tips for adult children
 Tips for spouses
 Tips for siblings

11. *When Things Get Better:
The Transition Back Home* 191

Discharge settings

Discharge planning meetings

Staff input

Family input

Resident input

The nuts and bolts of discharge: Three key tasks

Establishing current level of care needs

Determining the appropriate setting

Establishing follow-up services

Legal and financial arrangements, revisited

Legal (re)arrangements

Financial (re)arrangements

Social Security and its limitations

Making the home safe and secure

Accessibility

Injury prevention

Security

Emergency preparations

Orienting cues and memory aids

12. When It's Time to Let Go: Hospice and Beyond 211

The pros and cons of aggressive interventions

Arguments in favor of aggressive end-of-life care

Arguments against aggressive end-of-life care

The hospice option

What is hospice?

What can hospice do?

Who is eligible for hospice?

Who pays?

Emotional reactions to the end of life

The patient's perspective

The family's perspective

Physical changes at life's end

Grieving your loss

Immediate reactions

Short-term coping

Long-term survival

 Checklists, Worksheets, and Resources235

Checklists

- Home Health Care Comparison Checklist
- Nursing Home Comparison Checklist
- Personal Documents and Papers
- What to Bring to the Nursing Home
- Records a Nursing Home May Request

Worksheets

- Monthly Income and Expenses Worksheet
- Calculating a Person's Net Worth
- Medical/Health History

Resource and Contact Information

- Accessibility/Home Modification
- Agencies on Aging Contact Information
- Caregiver Resources/Support
- Elder Abuse
- Eldercare Products and Services
- Financial/Legal Resources
- Funeral Planning
- Health Information
- Home Care Agency Contact/Accreditation Information
- Hospice Resources
- Housing/Assisted Living
- Long-Term-Care Ombudsman Contact Information
- Medicare, Medicaid, and Other Insurance Information
- Mental Health Information
- National Organizations/Advocacy Groups Related to Aging
- Nursing Home Contact/Accreditation Information
- Physical and Occupational Therapy
- Tax Information
- Veteran's Information/Resources

INDEX 264

ABOUT THE AUTHORS 270